

Pennsylvania Labor History Society

2038 Susquehanna Street, Harrisburg, PA 17102

jyoung17102@gmail.com

717-238-7865

ANNUAL LABOR HISTORY CONFERENCE SHOWCASES NORTHWEST PENNSYLVANIA

October 27 - 28

Once again, the Pennsylvania Labor History Society closes the gaps in people's knowledge and appreciation of the labor movement in our Commonwealth. This year, we meet at the UE 506 hall in Lawrence Park to recognize four brothers and sisters who have contributed much to our labor heritage and struggles and to recount the important place of labor in American history and to recommit ourselves to educating Pennsylvanians about those efforts, past and present. The reception on October 27 begins at 6:00 p.m.

Please join us again on Saturday the 28th at the Local 506 hall (3923 Main Street in Lawrence Park) at 9:00 a.m. for a look at labor 100 years ago and today, as seen by labor activists and analysts. The awards will be inspirational and the serious analyses will be thought-provoking. The fellowship will be rewarding to all. You'll be glad you came. Solidarity!

Ken Wolensky, President Jim Young, VP Rick Bloomingdale, Sec Howard Scott, Treasurer

REGISTRATION: Enter at least one activity below

Name or Organization _____ Email _____

Address _____

Affiliation (If sitting with your union local or another group) _____

Registration ($10) $_____

Awards dinner buffet ($35) _____

Saturday lunch ($15) _____

Saturday historical session (Free) _____

Total $_____

Please send your registration & a check for PA Labor History Society to James A. Young, PLHS, 2038 Susquehanna Street, Harrisburg, PA 17102-2120. Questions to him at 717-238-7865.